IN A LISTLESS GAME.

Connaughton Makes a Fine Catch o a Line Drive and McVicker Shines in a Pretty Double Play-Score, 11 to 7.

For the second time this season the Blues have won three straight games. Their defeat of Minneapolis yesterday equaled the work of the home team when the Columbus leaders made their initial appearance in this city. The score was 11 to 7.

wasn't much of a game to speak of, and both clubs ought to have been beaten, were such a thing possible. "Kid" Bevis, who replaced Foreman in the middle of the fourth inning because the latter's finger was injured, did all he could to give thegame away, but Pitcher Carney and Shortstop Elustace were equal to the occasion and prevented the candidates for tail-end honors from becom-ing the recipients of the ing the recipients of the game.

There were one or two bright spots. In the second inning Connaughton bounded into the sir and knocked down a line drive from Pickett's bat, and in the fourth McVicker captured a fly from Pickett's willow and sent the ford tagged Wilmot by three feet in ttempt to score from third on the outlot made a pretty running catch of a om O'Rourke's bat, and Jack Menetee another demonstration of heady baseing. It was in the ninth inning, and his attempt to score from third on the out. Wilmot made a pretty running catch of a fly from O'Rourke's bat, and Jack Menefee gave another demonstration of heady base running. It was in the minth inning, and he had reached first on a clean drive to right center. He started to steal just as Bianford landed on the ball, sending it on the bound to Pickett, who threw to intercept Bianford. Menefee noted that Kuehne was several feet from third, and circled on past second and arrived at the third cushion before Cartwright could get the ball across the diamond to intercept him, taking two bases on an infield out.

The Millers seem to be thoroughly discouraged. They haven't as much life as the Blues. When they tied the score in the sixth they did not awaken from the deep pall of gloom in which they were enshrouded, but seemed to realize that it must be but a matter of an inning or two until they would be trailing.

The rungetting commenced in the second, although the Blues had two men on bases in the first inning before a hand was out. In the second, Bannon drew a base, stole second, was sacrificed to third, and scored when Blanford drove a clean single into right. Foreman went down on four wide ones, but was forced at second by O'Rourke. Connaughton bome. McVicker fouled out. The Blues scored again in the fifth. Connaughton opened up with a single, stole second, where he rested while Gettinger went out on a pop-up to Cartwright. He crossed the plate when McVicker pasted the ball for one base down right-field way. McVicker was caught trying to commit larceny at second. Carney drove the ball deep into center for two bases, although it would have been an easy threebager had his ankle been strong. Bannon's twobager brought him home. Menefee retired the side by rolling the ball out to the pitcher.

The seventh inning was a fright. Gettinger first man up, walked, and went to ger brought him home. Menefee retired the side by rolling the bail out to the pitcher.

The seventh inning was a fright. Gettinger, first man up, walked, and went to second while Carney was fumbling McVicker's roller. Carney's single filled the bases. Bannon waited for four bad ones and walked to first, forcing in Gettinger. Menefee fiew to Letcher, and McVicker scored on the out. Blanford sent a sod pounder to Eustace, who juggled it, and the sacks were filled. Bevis caught the bail on the end of his bat and drove it out to the fence in right center for three bases. O'Rourke pasted the sphere to Eustace. and Bevis was caught off third and run down, while o'Recurke traveled to second. Communghton rolled the ball down to Cartwright, retiring the side and ending the rungetting for the Blues.

the rungetting the Blues. Miller was given a base on balls, and very properly materialized at the plate with a run. Wilmot sent him home with his three-hagger to right. Connaughton fumbled Cartwright's grounder, and Wilmot scored. Pickett sacrificed, and Eustace's grounder let Cartwright cross the plate. Kuchne forced Eustace, and Boyle fouled to O Rourke.

forced Eustace, and Boyle fouled to O Rourke.

The visitors took two more in the fourth. Carney drew a base, and was forced at second by Letcher, who scored on Miller's twobagger. Wilmot drove a hot one at Foreman, which injured his finger and sent him to the clubhouse. Bevis replaced him, and Cartwright straightened one of his curves into a twosacker in McVicker's territory. Pickett sent up a fly which McVicker gathered in after a short run. Wilmot tried to score from third on the out but Marty lined the ball to the plate like a rifle shot and Wilmot was tagged three feet away.

The Blues crawled out of a deep hole in the sixth. Carney began proceedings by singling. Letcher followed with a clean drive to right, and Miller rolled the bail to Bevis, who made several ineffectual efforts to plok it up, but dropped it each time as though it were a gold brick and it was his second purchase. The bases were full and no one was out. Wilmot sent a long fly deep into center, which Gettinger pulled down after an heroic run. Carney scored on the out, but none of the other runners moved up. Cartwright sent a high foul up behind the plate, and Blanford gathered ft in. Eustace quieted the suspense by fouling out to Carney.

The visitors' last run came in the eighth inning. Wilmot bunted down the third hase line, and Bevis ran into O'Rourke's territory and, taking the bail from him, threw it to the right bleacher, while Wilmot traveled to third, from where he scored when Cartwright dew out to Gettinger. That ended the rungetting, and night was just settling down when the game closed. There was some complaint among the patrons because of the lateness of the hour the game was called, they claiming that they are kept at the grounds too late for their score:

Baseball Notes.

Paul comes to-morrow. The Millers' final appearance to-day. Blanford's catching improves with every ame. He has not had enough work, but he absence of Lake will give him a chance o show what he can do. Boston leads the big league this morning, thanks to these two defeats administered to Baltimore by the Giants. Here's hoping the Beancaters can hold the place.

THIRD SUCCESSIVE VICTORY
The Washington and Pittsburg clubs are after the services of Pitcher Donahue, of the St. Louis club. It is said Pittsburg offered $5,000 for him, but Von Der Ahe declined.

fered $5,000 for him, but Von Der Ahe declined.

Manager Manning yesterday received an offer from Frank Selee, of Boston, for the purchase of Fred Lake, but declined it. Marty Bergen is sulking and Boston needs a change catcher. Mr. Manning says he will keep Fred on the bench until he is well disciplined for deserting the team.

This is Danny Friend's final appearance in Kansas City. He has been recalled to Chicago, and, although he was on the slab day before yesterday, he has consented to pitch to-day as a farewell to the fans of this city. Since he has been with the Blues Danny has became a prime favorite. He has been doing excellent work in this league, and, with good support, would have won every game he pitched for Kansas City, nearly. He is a gentleman on the field and seems to have a world of good humor. He has never objected to an umpire's decision since he has been with us. There should be a good turnout to see the Blues make it four straight from the Millers. "Willie Bill' Hutchisen will be on the slab for the visitors.

The Cincinnati Times-Star says the more lers. "Willie Bill" Hutchison will be on the slab for the visitors.

The Cincinnati Times-Star says the more one sees of the Boston team the more one is convinced that they will give the Baltimores a stronger argument for championship honors this year than the Orioles have experienced in the last two seasons. The Bostons are playing baseball and have the necessary material with which to do it. There is no fluking about the game they are putting up. Several members of the team who were a trifle off in their work last season are in their very hest form now. This is especially true of Hugh Duffy, who has never played faster ball in his life than he is playing this year. The infield is as strong as any in the league, bar none. Collins, Long, Lowe and Tenney form a quartet that cannot be excelled. With strong pitchers in Nichols, Klobedanz, Lewis and Sullivan, and an excellent outfield as well as a good hitting team generally, the Bostons appear to have an even chance with Baltimore for the flag.

HOT FINISH IN THE LAST EVENT OF THE DAY.

Zephyrus Beats Wickliffe Out by a Scant Nose-Fifteen Nominations for the Kansas City Derby, to Be Run To-morrow.

The going was a trifle heavy out at Exposition park yesterday afternoon, but the sport was good and there was a large-sized crowd present to enjoy it. There were eight starters in the first race, with Emma P., the favorite, although the biggest burdle of money was on Walkenshaw, who had opened at 20 to 1, and was rapidly backed down to 6 to 1. Walkenshaw won with Emma P., second and Galgo third. It was said that the Paxton Bros., who own Walkenshaw, cleaned up about $1,800 on the race. The favorite galloped home ahead of the money in the second event, when Correspond, an even money choice, traveled in ahead of Blue Jay, a 10 to 1 shot. Service and Beb Clampett were the favorites in the third race, but the money went to Fairy Queen, an outsider, at 15 to 1. The hotiest event of the day was in the last race, when Zephyrus, a heavily backed favorite, nosed out a victory over Wickliffe, u 5 to I shot. The two horses came down the stretch neck and neck and parsed the wire almost a dead heat, but the favorite had a trifle the best of the argument and captured the money.

The Kansas City derby, one mile, for a purse of $300, will be run to-morrow. There are fifteen nominations, including three winners of Saturday and yesterday's roces, as follows: Hartless, Zephyrus and Walkershaw. The other nominations are Angelus, Gaigo, Emma P., Wiekliffe, Impetro, Lockhart, Splittog, Prince Consort, Frankfort Girl, Andel, Mstaphor H., and First chance. RYAN BESTS WILLIAMS.

The Australian Welterweight Disposed Of in Two Rounds-Lutz Whips Welch.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 21.-"Tommy' Ryan knocked out "Tom" Williams, champion weiterweight of Australia in the first minute of the second round of their fight minute of the second round of their fight before the Empire Athletic Clob to-night. The Australian started in to rush matters in the first round and Ryan contented himself with ducking and side-stepping until the latter part of the round, when he drove a right to the body that sent his man staggering against the ropes. In the second round Ryan started in from the first to mix matters, and landed right and left, on the face and body. Williams dropped to his knees three times to avoid punishment, and when he got up Ryan jabbed his right to the heart and then hooked his left on the temple. Williams dropped like a log and was counted out.

Cincinnati. O., June 2i.—Eugene Lutz. champion featherweight of Missouri, and Willie Welch, of Cincinnati, fought here to-night before the People's Athletic Cinb. In the third round Welch was floored three times and after arising from the third knock-down, succeeded in landing a hard knock on Lutz's jaw which sent the latter through the ropes. Welch was too weak to follow up the blow and a right on the jaw from Lutz sent him down and out.

GOOD VAUDEVILLE. Second Week at Fairmount Better

Than the First-New Features. An entirely new bill was put on at Fairmount last night and will be continued the remainder of the week. The new people proved especially popular. The lead-ing feature of the programme is the sketch with specialties given by Burt Haverly and Laura Biggar, very cleverly assisted by John P. Brown, who is something of a whistler. The sketch given by Mr. Haverly and Miss Biggar, "She Would Be an Actress," is quite amusing and introduces some attractive specialties, among them Mr. Haverly's imitation of Chevaller's cos-Mr. Haverly's imitation of Chevalier's coster sones.

Titenia, the little dancer, who does all sorts of dances on the tips of her toes, is a very attractive performer of this week's list. She was seen in this city last season and made a big hit at the time. She is a very pleasing little artist and she has a novelty that she is likely to control for a long time to come.

Merri Osborne was seen only in her specialties, French songs, but a good deal of her was seen in one of these. Merri is a very clever little soubrette, but she has adopted a very naughty style of entertainment, and it is to be regretted that she has descended from the modest manner she first brought us to the coarsest of music hall business. The sketch company was seen in a one act plece, "Naval Engagements," which may be called a howling success, for it was shouted from beginning to end and yet it seemed to make a hit. The bill as a whole is an improvement over that of last week.

FOR OFFICIAL HONESTY.

This Is the Basic Principle of the Newest Chicago Political

Chicago, June 21.—A new political party has been born in Chicago. It is called the Citizens' party, and is the outgrowth of the struggle made last spring to elect a man as mayor who was not allied to any machine organization. The new party has official honesty for its basic principle. Its machine organization. The new party has official honesty for its basic principle. Its plan of organization does away with the political machine, the brace primary and the packed convention. The platform favors public ownership and declares that corruption must be suppressed.

The new party organization begins with the people of each voting precinct. They form a precinct club, and these precinct officials elect the ward committee. Various methods are provided for the removal of party officials in case they fall to follow the desire of a majority of the members of the party. The lay members of the party are to have a voice in the nomination of candidates, and a ballot card system of voting for nominations has been arranged which will effectually prevent machine nominations by the officials of the party.

A. D. Philipot, who was the chairman of instependent movement, is the chairman of the party organization, and Edward J. Piggott is the secretary. Headquarters have been opened where the secretary will register the names of persons who wish to become members.

St. Paul.

Chicago, Juns 21.—The meeting of the Elks, which is to be held in Minneapolis in July, has stirred up a horner's nest between the Chicago-St. Paul roads, and there is likely to be trouble before the matter is settled. The roads of the Central Passenger Association have made a roundtrip rate of $13$ between Chicago and Minneapolis say that they will not agree to the rates nor recognize them in any way. The Great Western, on the other hand, has declared that it will assent to the rates and has invited all of the roads of the Central Passenger Association to route business over its line. The roads which are members of the Western Passenger Association say that the action of the Great Western is a violation of the recent agreement made by the executive officers of the Chicago-St. Paul roads to maintain rates, and that it therefore cannot be cutting the rates of the rates it intends to make, and that it therefore cannot be cutting the rates of the rates it intends to make, and that it therefore cannot be cutting the rates of the rates it intends to make, and that it therefore cannot be cutting the rates of the rates it intends to make, and that it therefore cannot be cutting the rates of the rates it intends to make, and that it therefore cannot be cutting the rates of the rates it intends to make, and that it therefore cannot be cutting the rates of the rates it intends to make, and that it therefore cannot be cutting the rates of the rates in the second passenger association will be offered the passenger association will be a part of officials who occupied the cars, and the chances are bright for a fight it he matter is not speedly adjusted.
